

Message from the chair of governors

Autumn term was another busy one at TPA and it has been great to see the children back out and about and exploring Tuxford. There is an exciting schedule of activities planned ahead in 2023.

During my visits to the academy I have been impressed with the behaviour and attitude of the children, it was a pleasure to speak to key stage 2 in assembly explaining the role of the governing body and how we help with the management of the academy.

The Food Hub initiative is proving to be really popular and it has been great to see the PFA taking responsibility for running this, a really good example of the academy being at the heart of the community.

We have also been reviewing the results of the parent survey. Most of the responses are very positive though there is still a significant minority of parents who feel they don't have enough information on what the children are doing and how well they're getting on. It would be useful to get some suggestions from parents regarding other channels and methods which the school could consider using in the future.
